

About Us

Student Nutrition Ontario - Toronto (SNO-Toronto), previously known as Student Nutrition Toronto, is a collaborative partnership that works together to support Student Nutrition Programs. We've done this since 1998 and we're proud to see how your local programs have grown. The partners are listed below.

Toronto District School Board and Toronto Catholic District School Board

The Toronto District School Board and the Toronto Catholic District School Board provide administrative and operational support for the programs.

Toronto Public Health

Toronto Public Health (TPH) manages the Student Nutrition Program Nutrition Standard that each program is expected to meet. TPH also provides additional support through program visits by Registered Dietitians and Public Health Inspectors and provides Food Safety and Nutrition Training Workshops. As well, TPH coordinates the annual government grant application processes.

Toronto Foundation for Student Success and Angel Foundation for Learning

The Toronto Foundation for Student Success (TFSS) and The Angel Foundation for Learning (AFL) actively raise funds to support SNPs, ensure financial accountability, and administer government funding as well as providing on-site help and training for those completing financial reports. As the provincial Lead Agency, TFSS coordinates food and logistics and houses the SNO-Toronto Office.

FoodShare

The SNP Community Development Animators operate out of FoodShare Toronto, and provide on-site support and guidance for SNPs by supporting student nutrition program coordinators in starting and improving their programs. As well, FoodShare facilitates training workshops and develops helpful materials for programs.

SNO-Toronto collaborates with the thirteen other regions providing Student Nutrition Programs in Ontario through the Student Nutrition Ontario (SNO) network. Sharing resources and knowledge, SNO gives a unified voice to an extensive network of non-profits that support over 800,000 students in receiving healthy meals at school.
